The Art of Hosting
& Harvesting
Conversations that matter

Join us in Manitoba, July 24, 2013.

A new type of leadership is being called for in businesses, non-profit organizations, schools, communities and families. This style of leadership generates fresh thinking and creates a shared commitment to solving critical challenges in sustainable, inclusive ways.

We call this participatory leadership.

Most of the problems and issues we are facing today in our organizations and communities can only find creative and wise solutions in collaboration with others.

The Art of Hosting and harvesting conversations that matter is a participative approach used worldwide for leading, convening, and engaging in conversations that cultivate mutual respect and create wise, long-term solutions for now and in the future.

In this highly interactive introductory workshop, we will explore principles of group dynamics and the methods that activate collective intelligence. You will be introduced to and experience participative approaches such as Open Space, World Cafe and Circle Way.

Wednesday, July 24, 2013, from 9 am - 4 pm
Canadian Mennonite University, Great Hall
500 Shaftsbury Blvd, Winnipeg, Manitoba

Who should attend? Leaders, managers, facilitators, teachers, parents, community builders, public officials, social innovators, young emerging leaders, and anyone interested!
